English at Trinity

The English Department of Trinity School is a dynamic and knowledgeable team who want to inspire pupils with a love of language and literature. Pupils study texts for breadth and depth from a diverse range of authors and contexts, allowing them to consider and challenge attitudes, concepts, and stereotypes. They are encouraged to question, critique and learn to share their point of view in an articulate and powerful way through the power of words.

We teach a rigorous, academic curriculum where students study challenging texts. Using insights from cognitive science, we believe that explicit instruction, deliberate practice, and a knowledge-based curriculum are the most effective and efficient ways to ensure that students make progress. Our teachers teach from the front, using their subject expertise to not only stretch students, but also to anticipate and preclude misconceptions and scaffold learning for those who are struggling.

Reading is at the core of everything we do and lessons will often involve whole class, close reading followed by text dependent questions. Our units of work are fully planned and delivered through booklets. The booklets contain everything that teacher and students need in terms of content, allowing staff to concentrate on delivery and the best way to maximise learning. Units are designed to build and develop background knowledge as well as improving student writing across three broad genres: text response, rhetoric, and creative writing. We teach vocabulary and grammar explicitly, focussing on Tier 2 words and high utility sentence constructions.

We take workload seriously and our teachers are only asked to create resources that are reusable and sustainable. We grade summative assessments using comparative judgment and whole class feedback, saving hours of time compared to traditional methods and resulting in massively increased reliability. Our everyday approach to marking is through whole class feedback and we do not expect extensive, unwieldy and unsustainable written commentary in books. We are a collaborative, caring and supportive team and ensure we always work together to reduce workload and allow for consistency.

The continuing professional development of all staff at Trinity is a priority and the English department is devoted to providing opportunities for staff to further their careers. We are excited at the opportunity to welcome you to the English Team at Trinity.

Come and join our amazing school.

Kind Regards,

Fidelma Hanlon

VISION

Trinity Standards

Our Trinity Standard is expressed in the grid below – showing the different strands expected under each of the 7 categories. These are not expected to be seen in every lesson, but instead they should be evident over time. Observations will be looking at areas of strengths and highlight areas to develop from these categories.

Intent

To deliver the content of the national curriculum augmented with knowledge and understanding which will enable our pupils to “live life in all its fullness”.

Trinity has created a knowledge engaged progress model which clearly outlines the:

- key knowledge and vocabulary to be delivered and;
- character developing experiences to be offered

at specific milestones from reception through to Year 11

Implementation

Through seven key principles that make up the Trinity Standard for Teaching and Learning.

Impact

For our pupils to:

- achieve academic success;
- be prepared for the next step of their journey through Trinity and beyond;
- gain cultural and social capital;
- be able to procedurally engage with a rich web of knowledge;
- become courageous advocates who fight social injustices.

- 7.8 Feedback about the process rather than specific outcome is given to further develop metacognitive strategies
